

🗨️ What do you want to be when you grow up? Maybe you'd like to be a doctor. Or you could be a painter. How about a homemaker? There are so many choices!

Think about the things you enjoy doing right now. One of those things could turn into a job you love when you grow up.

🗨️ These girls love ice cream. They could make ice cream when they grow up.

Which one would you like to drive? A bulldozer or a backhoe? You could drive both!

Maybe you like digging and pretending that you're at the wheel of a big backhoe or a powerful bulldozer. Backhoes and bulldozers are often used when a house is being built. The backhoe digs up the earth and the bulldozer moves the dirt out of the way.

👥 It takes a lot of people to build a house. An architect makes a drawing of what the house will look like. Then the construction workers build the floors and walls and roof. Once the outside of the house is built, a new group of people start to work on the inside. Carpenters put in floors and cabinets. Painters paint the walls and ceilings.

👥 Oops! Maybe this man should not be a painter. Can you see why?

👤 If you like cats, dogs and turtles, you might someday grow up to be a veterinarian. A veterinarian is a doctor for animals.

A veterinarian looks in an animal's ears and listens to its heart to be sure it is healthy. They may have to give a shot to make it feel better.

👤 A hug can also make a pet feel better.
