

The next morning, Ava
was still worried.

"What's wrong?" asked Mom at breakfast time.
"Why aren't you eating?
Don't you feel well?"

Ava stared at her cereal. "I'm worried about going to the dentist," she admitted glumly.
"My stomach is churning so much that I don't feel even a little bit hungry."

