We Both Read®

Can You Spot? Parent's Introduction

Whether your child is a beginning reader, a reluctant reader, or an eager reader, We Both Read offers a fun and easy way to encourage and help your child in reading.

Developed with reading education specialists, We Both Read books invite you and your child to take turns reading aloud. You read the left-hand pages of the book, and your child reads the right-hand pages—which have easier text written for a specific reading level. The result is a wonderful new reading experience and faster reading development!

The rhyming, repetition, and simple words in this book make it ideal for a very beginning reader. This book is also designed to help your child learn numbers and simple counting, as you engage in the fun of looking for various items on the pages.

As each of you reads, it may be helpful to run a finger under the text. To help show whose turn it is, a blue dot ● comes before text for you to read, and a red star ★ comes before text for your child to read.

If your child struggles with a word, you can encourage "sounding it out," but keep in mind that this will not help with all words because some words don't follow phonetic patterns. You can help with breaking down the sounds of the letters or syllables, but if your child becomes too frustrated, it is usually best to simply say the word.

Most importantly, remember to praise your child's efforts and keep the reading fun. Keep the tips above in mind, but don't worry about doing everything right. Simply sharing the enjoyment of reading together will increase your child's reading skills and help to start your child on a lifetime of reading enjoyment!
